Comps , comps & more competition

It now seems that every second weekend we have someone fighting in a competition somewhere so after a two month delay in getting a newsletter out I have much to report. On the 18th March Nadine fought Tammy Taylor (2010 Australian women's representative at world Championships) at Richmond RSL and lost a narrow points decision. It was a great match, Nadine went on to score a win over Kaye Scott (NSW 75kg Champ) at north Sydney Leagues club on the 15th April. Astryd fought an exhibition fight at Richmond and then had a rematch with Katie Skinner at the PCYC state titles losing again on points but improving a lot from her performance at state titles. Our boys fought 12th April at South's Juniors with Vince having a great win and Will and Thomas losing on narrow points decisions, Will by only one point . Diana had exhibitions at Bondi RSL and PCYC state titles and went on to have her first judged fight which became a hard fought loss. Rhys and Will fought judged exhibitions at Bronte RSL 21st May with a one win and a loss but were great fights.

The Ultimate Challenge Cabana Bar June 9th

It seems like a lifetime ago but it is only 18 months since Joe's made its debut into amateur competition the first one being at the old Boxingworks gym in the city on October 2nd 2009 and the second event at the Cabana bar on March 25th 2010. We now enter our third challenge with our friends mainly from Boxingworks and other gyms who make up the bulk of the 'white collar' boxing fraternity. These are mainly fit professionals often in the masters division who love their boxing as opposed to younger PCYC type opponents who we face in state titles. These competitions allow us a good entry level to get our fighters blooded and offer a broader range in age than we would otherwise get. We now have a wide range of competition venues and I am in constant contact with promoters eager to have us fight on their cards although we must remember the bigger the crowd we bring to an event the keener they are ☺

Joe's Fight night & 2000 party Saturday 27th August

I am planning to hold the world joe's boxing fight night in August or September this year with the preliminary date set down at Saturday 27th august from about 7.30pm. Therefore I am looking for participants with priority given for red shirts who will be doing their black shirt promotion on the night. This is an internal club night where members or perhaps friends from other gyms are matched for a crowd judged exhibition you don't have to be registered with ABA to participate this is an internal event. This will be followed by the 2000th student celebration.

In the big ring

DANIEL Geale sent six millions Germans into meltdown this morning when he did the next-to-impossible – beating a German world champion on German soil.

Geale is the new IBF middleweight world champion after a stunning split decision win against champion Sebastian Sylvester.

No, not Anthony Mundine and Danny Green, both of whom failed to win their world title bids when they travelled to Germany. He joins only three other Australian born fighters to win the world title on foreign soil – Jimmy Carruthers, Lionel Rose and Jeff Harding – who are all bonafide Australian legends. Footnote - I see Daniel Geale in the corner coaching of many amateur fighters he seems really humble.

Wood vs. Mundine

The Rematch - April 13th

Much more than people think this was a real contest between two good fighters, one who is a really talented boxer but who under pressure when tested tends to play the rules wherever he can and then on receiving a somewhat lame decision harps on how great he is and the other with limited boxing experience and skills possesses the heart of a lion equalled by a wonderful humility and irony. I'm not going to say which one is which but it would be a pretty easy guess. It will rebirth with excitement but the whole world seems dominated by talented but aging 'Rock Star' boxers continuing to be overpaid when the real boxing talent the likes you see at State titles goes unpaid and unrecognized ... That's Boxing!

That's it Folks see you next time!
