'Joe's Boxing Fight Night the hottest ticket in town'

Joe's Boxing Fight Night Saturday 30th September from 7pm

This is it folks what all the old timers all talk about and the hottest ticket in town and this year will be the biggest ever with many students going up for that ultimate prize the Joe's Boxing Black Shirt. Although not a judged competition fight the 3 x 2 minute full contact match gives students the closest possible feel as to what it's like to do an amateur boxing match and sets our black shirt standard. This year we are fundraising to purchase our own competition size boxing ring and we need to raise $2600 to purchase outright (the exact ring is shown below). I would also raise funds for travel expenses relating to Will Doomadgee's 'Tribal Connection' initiative where we will travel to his community of Doomadgee and encourage the youth to become involved in boxing. The scope of what Will does is much larger than this and potentially could help many aboriginal communities across Australia. This time I would really like some help and we already have a professional marketing person to help us in the form of Lana who is creating the plan as a template for our success. Students have already offered to donate goods for prizes and we are offering multi levels of sponsorship. We need people to help on the night as well as organization but most of all bring many friends and enjoy. Leading up to the event we will be doing extra training plus re-introducing our fitness burn routines affectionately known as 'four rounds of hell'. As I would like to have the ring on the night we will be doing several paid seminars bringing in such people as Alex Tui (the first Australian to win a world kickboxing title) and Justann Crawford (2 Olympics, 9 times Oz champ, 9 international gold medals). The Rylstone spring camp will be available to all but will be focussed on those who will be fighting on the night. Please note you do not have to be going for your black shirt on the night to participate. If you have a friend or want me to find a match we will endeavour to do so. The night will also have a large amount of alternative entertainment with demo's of sword slicing through bone and the introduction of X-Kombat and of course the lovely ring card girls will be cajoling everyone to buy raffle tickets between the fights and entertainment. This is one night you don't want to miss and is what Joe's Boxing is all about!

In the big ring

Anthony Mundine says he wants to get past the “chihuahuas” and line up a fight with boxing’s “big dog” – undefeated seven-time world champion Floyd Mayweather. Mundine will make his long-awaited US debut when he takes on 41-year-old American journeyman Bronco McKart on US Independence Day, July 4, at Palms Casino in Las Vegas. McKart 54-9-1 (32KO), who has not held a major world title since he won the WBO light-middleweight crown against Santos Cardona in 1996, has only fought five times since 2008. “It’s not the fight that I wanted or that I earned as far as a big fight but that was the offer that came and there was nothing else happening so I had to take it,” admitted Mundine, who has a record of 43 wins and four losses. “I had to jump at the opportunity. I can’t knock back a main event.” Mundine, who was stripped of his WBA interim junior middleweight title after refusing to fight Austin Trout, says McKart is merely a launching pad to land him his main target of Mayweather.

Get your name on that wall!

Around Anzac Day Will Doomadgee took a few people up to his tribe in the northern territory as part of his ‘tribal connection’ initiative where Will organizes people with skills in music, art, landscaping etc. to come to the community . I am scheduled to go to Doomadgee in July to coach for a few days and help with their program. I am hoping that Will’s vision takes hold and that it is both successful and that it can be a template that is then transferred to other aboriginal communities. We are currently working on the formation of a foundation which I am looking for heavyweight help so if this interests you in any way let me know.

Frenchman's Cap (1446 metres) is one of Tasmania's most distinctive peaks. This elegant, white quartzite dome, ice-sheared on its south-eastern side to reveal Tasmania's highest cliffs, attracts increasing numbers of bushwalkers, rock climbers and photographers. Almost encircled by the Franklin River in a rugged region of rainforests, sparkling lakes and towering rock spires, Frenchman's Cap is enclosed within Wild Rivers National Park. The liberty cap worn during the French Revolution is thought to have suggested its name.

Frenchman's Cap was well known to Aborigines, and its rich European history includes visits to the region by convicts, explorers, prospectors and piners. Frenchman's Cap was a familiar landmark long before its first recorded ascent by James Sprent's trigonometric survey party in 1853.

Every year I want to do a challenging hike or climb including the Kokoda & Everest Base Camp but this year I choose to attempt in Tasmania a walk called ‘Frenchman’s Cap’. This will be a very challenging walk being only 23km but apparently requiring 3-5 days to complete. If interested let me know ASAP!

For those who have signed up on a full membership that is paid by direct debit or credit card thankyou so much you are my heroes but please be aware that the notation of your statement will come as EDUCATIONAL FUNDING COMPANY . They used to send out a letter explaining this but seemed to have stopped and a number of students have then disputed the payment .
